$5024 Quota Asked for Albany Red Cross Drive; Campaign Opens March 1

Albany's 1950 Red Cross campaign will open March 1 with a goal of $5024, it was announced today by Harold Olson, fund drive chairman.

Red Cross officials and leaders, leading citizens, fund solicitors and friends will meet 12 o'clock noon Tuesday at Berkeley Chapter Headquarters in a final rally which will spur 1500 solicitors on their way to collect $95,898 from the communities of Albany, Berkeley and Kensington for Red Cross services this year.

In announcing the meeting, Professor P. M. Barr, chairman of the Chapter, said:

"We are appealing to the public for a generous response and submit that every dollar contributed to the Red Cross is a very special kind of dollar, not associated with the current concept of dollars. It is a dollar expressed in terms of lives saved through the Red Cross blood program, first aid, food and nutrition education and home nursing; in terms of help for the afflicted, the helpless and the victims of disaster; and lastly, a dollar expressed in terms of friendliness and comradeship to the men in hospitals and training camps."

A rally for approximately 150 Albany residential workers will be held 8 p. m. Monday at the MacGregor School, Brighton and San Gabriel Aves.

The program will include a humorous skit depicting the right and wrong way of obtaining Red Cross contributions, featuring Mrs. Robert Kleinhammer and Richard Hillman. The play was written by Mrs. L. E. Silveira of Kensington.

Brief addresses will be given by Olson and Mrs. Marian Conklin, executive secretary. The Canteen service of the Red Cross will serve coffee and doughnuts.

Block workers, precinct captains and area chairmen will separate into different rooms to receive their workers' packets, instructions and discuss any questions.

Dr. Paul C. Bryan is serving as special division chairman and will be assisted by the following captains:

Solano Ave.—Cecil Wentz, Arthur Pelegri, Miss Bernice Boyd, Herb Foley and Jack Lloyd; San Pablo Ave.: Henry Villa, John Fahy, Harry Barrows, Mrs. May Olson and Fred Granholt.

Captains for special areas are: Eugene Baker, Albany Schools; Mrs. Myrtle McLean, City em-

Rotarians See Premier Showing Of Auto Movie

After seeing the human aspects of the automobile industry dramatized in a motion picture, Albany Rotarians today realized that the building of a new automobile represents far more than the amount of money required to buy it.

In a premier showing of "The Human Bridge," a 30-minute color movie produced by Ford Motor Co., Rotary members and guests at the Monday luncheon saw the creation of a new automobile from its planning stages to the finished product through the coordinated efforts of men in offices, laboratories, drafting rooms and men in factories.

Depicting the automobile industry as a symbol of America's high standard of living, story of the film was inspired from the following plaque placed over the entrance to Ford's engineering building by Henry Ford, founder: "Mankind passes from the old to the new on a human bridge formed by those who labor in the three principal arts — agriculture, manufacture, transportation."

Curt Campbell was program chairman and introduced Ralph Gordon, Ford's district manager of Richmond, who gave a brief introduction to the film. Others assisting were Sharon Eichelberger and George Pickart, both of Curt Campbell's.

President Ted Williams announced that Walter Kees, Solano Ave. branch, Bank of America will be chairman, next Monday and will present Ed McGinnis, of the Bank's home office in San Francisco, who will speak on "Make a Will Last." Lloyd Gordon introduced visiting Rotarians.

Soroptimist Show to Aid Cancer Fund

The Soroptimist Club of Albany today "let the proverbial cat out of the bag" in announcing the title of their brand new show, "The Last Hundred Years Were the Hardest" or "Soroptimist Varieties of 1950," to be staged Saturday, April 29, at the Albany High School Auditorium.

After due consideration, it was decided by the Club that proceeds from the show this year will go for a project which would be of greater service to mankind: the Cancer Detection Fund.

May Ellis Olson, who submitted the cancer detection idea, has contacted several of the local doctors, as well as specialists in the field of cancer, to secure first hand information on this major project.

The gigantic task of selecting chairmen and forming committees to carry out the show fell to Miriam Guseman, while the talented Claire McQuay was chosen as entertainment chairman. As a result, the entertainment committee has already outlined the program apportioning the years between 1850 and 1950 to the various service and civic organizations. Ten organizations have been asked to contribute a 10-minute variety act.

The arrangement committee, headed by Kay Fritz, is busy lining up props and special entertainment; Edith Lennox and the ticket and finance committee are working hard to secure enough tickets in time for the extravaganza; Myrtle McLean and her committee will take care of the advertising, while Ruby Kampke will man the start of typists who handle all correspondence pertaining to the show.

May Olson's committee will artistically arrange the printed programs and Norma Carr will be assisted by Mildred Hein in securing ushers for the show. Louise Storck with her expert publicity staff will

Plans Drafted for Albany Hill Water Development

Albany citizens will once again have the chance to express their views on the proposed city manager form of government in Albany at a second hearing to be held during the regular City Council meeting 8 p. m. Monday at the City Hall.

Mayor Bert Hill Monday night announced that the issue would come up for discussion and extended an invitation to residents to attend the meeting and speak on the subject at that time.

Councilmen have indicated that they will act following the hearing to either pass the second reading of the proposed ordinance or leave the decision to the voters.

Second reading of the ordinance was deferred January 28 by request of the Committee for the Good of the City in order that further study on the plan could be made. The Committee informed the Council Monday night by letter that its purpose in presenting "unbiased information" to the citizens on the subject would be accomplished by the end of this week.

If passed at the second reading, an amendment to limit the plan to a one-year "trial period" is expected to be attached to the proposed ordinance.

In other business, the Council authorized City Engineer E. A. Tarr to draft a map for the long-standing plan to pipe water to Albany Hill.

Action came after a request made by a majority of the property owners and a similar request from the Chamber of Commerce water committee.

The property owners unanimously agreed that the Council should take the following action:

1. To enter into an agreement with the East Bay Municipal Utility District on the most favorable terms available for the installation of water service on Blocks 5, 6 and 7 of Albany Hill. And that it is agreed that the cost of approximately $100 per lot for this installation will be paid by the property owners on the basis of equal assessment against each lot.

2. That payments on this obligation be arranged so that they are payable in installments with the taxes over a period of 10 years, with provision that any owner who wishes could pay the entire amount at any time. It was stipulated that the assessment should be arranged so that it would not interfere with the obtaining of FHA.

3. In view of the fact that a number of new homes will soon be built in this area, if water is obtained, thus increasing the City's revenue in taxes, it is requested that the City make every effort possible to cooperate by arranging the interest on the unpaid balance of these assessments.

The action of the group came after the City Engineer's recent announcement that the EBMUD would pipe water to the hill for $10,000.

Representing 71 of the 104 property owners on Albany Hill, the group have banded together as Albany Hill Water District No. 1. J. G. Anderson is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Henry Honnert and Ray H. Negel.

The letter from the Chamber of Commerce, signed by William I. Garren, chairman, asked the Council's support on the water plan.

The Council also granted 10 permits to the Blue and Gold Cab Co. of Berkeley to operate in Albany, five being effective only during the coming racing season at Golden Gate Fields.

Councilmen approved the additional cab service four to one, with Councilman Frank Hays casting the dissenting vote.

Hays pointed out that the Albany Cab Co. had recently been forced to take one cab out of service because of lack of business.

"With the present economic condition I can't see where we have a surplus cab business," he said.

Opposition was voiced from the floor by the Albany and the Yellow Cab Companies.

RICHES TO RAGS

It's your money and your business!
Your business is worth $500,000.00 a year.
You have 74 regular employees.
You are the stockholders, and your children after you.

How will you have this business run—in its present form of nine departments scrambling for themselves, or as a modern, efficient and unified city government?

WOULD THE PRESENT FORM OF GOVERNMENT SUFFICE?
If wishes were horses, beggars would ride! The form of government sets the pace—and we have a horse and buggy.

WHY DO WE NEED A CITY MANAGER?
Because there is a job to do that is not being done. Administration, coordination, efficient buying, efficient spending, planning.

IS ALBANY TOO SMALL?
Since when has the size of a man's house been a limit of his financial responsibilities? Over 60 of the 90 cities in California operating with a manager are under 20,000 population.

IS THERE A HAND-PICKED CANDIDATE FOR CITY MANAGER?
No. Success depends on the selection of the best man from many candidates.

MORE FOR YOUR TAX DOLLAR?
Efficiency—Do you wash with a machine in one hour, or spend all day over a wash-board?
Time—One hour or all day—which benefits your family most?
Buying and Spending—Do you send each of the family to the market for his food? Can you afford to buy without skillful shopping?

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe
She had so many departments she didn't know what to do.
So she hired a manager, quite speedily,
And they all worked together most eagerly.

We feel that the Council has brought forward the most progressive and intelligent step in this city's government that has been proposed in the last twenty years. This is not politics but real service. If you agree send them a penny post-card—now!

Maurio De Gannaro Claims Rosemary Villa for Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Maurio De Gannaro (Rosemary Villa) will be "at home" at 834 Page St. in Berkeley after returning from a Southern California honeymoon. The couple were married in a 4 p. m. ceremony Sunday at St. Ambrose Church, followed by a reception held at the Albany home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Villa.

Rosemary, given in marriage by her father, Henry S. Villa, Albany Studebaker dealer, wore a lace-trimmed, white satin wedding gown with the lace repeated as a trim on her long train. Her fingertip veil was secured by a wreath of orange blossoms and her bouquet was also an old-fashioned nosegay.

Mrs. Joseph Villa Jr., of Albany attended the bride as honor matron wearing an aqua taffeta gown with a lace yoke. Lois Berndt of Berkeley wore yellow, and Lorna Christion of Albany was in green. Carol Cleary of Albany in orchid taffeta completed the quartet of attendants. Mrs. Henry S. Villa wore a dark green satin frock, as did Mrs. Mateo De Gannaro. Both mothers wore corsages of orchids.

Nicholas De Gannaro of Berkeley held the wedding band while Billy Martin, Chris Kiteas and Bud Cruess, all of Berkeley were ushers. The bride's parents reside at 986 Kains Ave., and the benedict is the son of Mrs. Mateo De Gannaro, of 834 Page St., Berkeley.

Pfc. Julius Levy in 'Exercise Sweetbriar'

Pfc. Julius Levy, 19, son of Mrs. Diana Levy, of 1600 Solano Ave., is currently participating in "Exercise Sweetbriar," the first joint U. S.-Canadian arctic maneuver to be held in Alaska and Canada.

A graduate of a French high school in Tangier, Morocco, and of the Albany High School, Pfc. Levy is presently serving as clerk for Company A, 1st Battalion, 4th Infantry Regiment.

During the arctic maneuver, the 4th Infantry is serving as part of an "Aggressor Force" which has theoretically invaded Alaska and is marching down the Alcan Highway toward Canada and the United States. A joint U. S. and Canadian Force, effectively trained in arctic battle methods, is attempting to push the "Aggressor Force" out of the territory.

The couple are "at home" in El Cerrito after returning from a Southern California honeymoon.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deibell, of 532 Cornell Ave., wore a long sleeved white satin dress with loop skirt, high neck with a wide lace collar. The veil was fastened to a coronet of seed pearls and formed a full-length train. She carried an inlaid pearl prayer book topped with a white orchid and streamers of bouvardias. For something old she carried a painted lace handkerchief carried 50 years ago by her great aunt.

The bride's attendants were dressed in aqua organdy and carried old-fashioned bouquets of carnations with matching flowers in their hair. Anna Jean Busey, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and bride's maids were Claudia Merck of Albany and Helen Busey of Richmond. The flower girl was little Loretta Merck of Albany.

Best man duties were carried out by Aubrey Brown, brother of the groom, and ushers were Smitty Cunningham and Gordon Busey.

A reception followed the ceremony at the 20th Century Club in Berkeley.

After a honeymoon, the couple returned to make their home at 2525 Dwight Way.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, L. L. Garrison, was attended only by the benedict's sister, Ila Mae Brooks, who was attired in buttercup yellow taffeta and carried a bouquet of blue and yellow spring flowers.

Thomas Brooks of Oakland was best man. Guests were seated by Phillip Eaton and Hugh Clave, both of Berkeley. Betty Berquist of Berkeley was soloist.

ADEQUATE WIRING

When he wires a home an electrician knows if the wiring he installs is "just enough to get by" or if it really is a complete wiring job. He prefers to install an Adequate Wiring System because he knows then that there will be no danger of overloaded circuits and that in the future there will be no need for expensive additions and changes.

A good wiring system is one of the smallest items in the total cost of a home. The cost of an adequate wiring system amounts to only 3 to 4 percent of the total building budget.

Insist on modern Adequate Wiring for your new home. Look for it in the house plans and keep it there. You will be glad you did and be money ahead in the years to come.

1 ADEQUATE ENTRANCE SERVICE

Adequate Wiring begins with three wires of large enough size brought through your house to the main entrance switch.

2 ENOUGH CIRCUITS

Adequate Wiring provides a sufficient number of branch circuits within your house to prevent overloading of any circuits.

3 PLENTY OF OUTLETS AND SWITCHES

Adequate Wiring means plenty of convenience outlets and switches to permit the use of appliances without the frequent disconnecting of one appliance in order to use another.

City Government No Mystery To Albany High School Group

In keeping with the modern educational practices of studying current problems in schools, the Albany High School history and civics classes today are making a study of the various forms of city government.

This study is especially popular at this time in view of the city-wide interest shown concerning the proposed changes in the city government from the mayor-council type to the city manager form.

The high school juniors and seniors have done extensive research on city government by reading in history and government books from the school's library, along with following the newspapers. The students have interviewed various city officials concerning the organization of city government on the merits and weaknesses of the proposed change.

Allen Grimes, authority on city government, spoke to the students recently on the city manager form of government, followed by a panel discussion on the subject.

Giving his full support to this type of study in history classes, Dr. Paul C. Bryan, superintendent of schools said:

"The foremost objective of education is the training of students for effective citizenship. Students will become participating adult citizens in our democracy, if during their school years, they have many opportunities to use history as a basis for understanding current problems."

"Nothing could give these future voters a better understanding of democracy in action than an intensive study of our present city government," Bryan added.

The classes are under direction of Albert Mathews, Winifred Goode and Lester Bralliar.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Klemm, of 1131 Garfield, are parents of a daughter born February 15 at Herrick Memorial Hospital weighing 6 pounds 10 ounces. The new arrival was named Sally Jo and is the sister of Max Jr., 9; Bradley, 8; and Kent, 2. The father is a bakery salesman.

Homemaking Today
By Marguerite Fenner
Director of Home Economics, P. G. and S.

Good cooking utensils may not make good cooks but they help. Your meal preparation can be easier and the results more consistently satisfactory when you use correct cooking utensils.

If you are replacing worn-out or incorrect utensils, or if you are stocking your kitchen for the first time, you would do well to consider carefully what type to buy.

There are many different materials used today in pots and pans. No one material is best—each is desirable for a particular job and will give most satisfaction when used for the task for which it was designed.

A well designed saucepan will have a flat bottom, straight sides and a tight-fitting cover. Saucepans should be the right size to fit the burner of your gas range or the unit on your electric range in order that all the heat will go into the pan instead of escaping into the air.

If the knobs on the lids are recessed, making the tops flat, you can stack the pans and will need less storage space. Flat covers and small, close fitting handles are desirable in cooking oven meals, because they save space.

Here are some of the characteristics of materials used in cooking utensils. Knowing them may help you decide which kind will be the best cooking job for you.

Aluminum conducts heat well. It is medium in price and is the medium weight aluminum pan satisfactory for most top-range cooking. Keep them clean with a good aluminum cleanser pad. Avoid leaving them standing in aluminum because they may pit and spoil the appearance of the pan.

Stainless steel is durable and easy to clean. Some manufacturers have alloyed it with another metal which eliminates spot heating. Use a mild abrasive when necessary to remove stains.

Glass absorbors and holders. There are two types of glass—one for oven cooking and another for surface cooking, called flameaware. Avoid changes of temperature and of harsh abrasives which scratch the glass. Remove food on food by soaking the warm soda water.

Enameled utensils absorb heat well. Handle them carefully to prevent chipping, cracking. Avoid extremes of temperature and letting the food dry in the pan. Stains can be moved with a household

All in Grimes's training and experience has been in this field. He specialized in Municipal Corporation Law at the University of California. He spent two years on the staff of the League of California Municipalities. He has been retained by a number of Cities to do charter revision work including Sunnyvale, Castro Valley, Antioch and Ross. He is presently engaged in compiling a municipal code for the City of Ross. The Citizens of Albany who have had the privilege of hearing Mr. Grimes in the past weeks have come to an appreciation of the value of professional training for problems such as this.

Mr. Grimes has kindly given of his time and knowledge in informative talks and the answering of questions before the following organizations of Albany: The Soroptimist's Public Forum, The Rotary Club, The Exchange Club, The Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, The Eagles, The Albany Community Association, The Exchangees, and the Albany High School Forum.

In addition the Committee for the Good of the City has tried to add to the information by our articles in the Albany Times.

In a very complete cross-section of the citizens of Albany we have found the opposition to the Council-Manager form of government to be very minor indeed, and to be pri-

We feel that you, as a Council have brought forward the most progressive and intelligent step in city government that has been proposed in the past twenty years, and that your method of expert approach will be of lasting benefit to the city.

M'Gregor Parents Find School Days Have Changed

Members of the MacGregor P. A. went back to school last Thursday evening and found it a far cry from the little red school house of yesteryear.

"How would you like to be in the first grade again?" asked William Woolworth, Albany coordinator of attention in his talk with the MacGregor parents.

He proceeded to put the parents through the actual experience of first learning to read by use of a consonant alphabet. Then he demonstrated the reading-readiness program used in Albany primary schools today.

Recognition of differences in rate of physical and mental growth and willingness to wait until a child is ready for first steps in the three "R's" is practiced in Albany schools Woolworth said.

"It is necessary for parents to recognize these basic difference and not push the child and cause emotional disturbances," he said.

Woolworth explained that individual differences are again considered in teaching writing and spelling which are related to reading, the three not being separated and taught by old fashioned rote and drill methods. But it is in considering the three "R's" that teaching methods show the greatest progress.

Today, Woolworth said, children have the satisfaction of learning arithmetic by actual participation, learning the "why" of it and the need for it in their own experiences. Charts, counting games, measuring ingredients for cookies or filling a gallon container with cups of water are used by teachers to point out basic arithmetic in terms of concrete examples at the child's level.

MacGregor parents wholeheartedly answered Woolworth's question with a "Yes, we'd love to be in the first grade again—these days."

Ford for power

Feel the "go" of the '50 Ford's "hushed" V-8 engine. It's the same type engine now used in America's costliest cars—but the '50 Ford brings it to you for hundreds less than most "sixes." And it's a quiet engine, too. It actually whispers while it works.

Ford for style

Ford's "Fashion Car" styling—now more beautiful than ever—is protected by new baked-on colors, "built to live outdoors." New sparkling upholstery fabrics are long lived, too. Even seat life has been lengthened through the use of non-sag front seat springs under foam rubber cushions.
